NOTES:

Entry& Exit Requirements: In late November 2010, the Libyan government officially informed the U.S. Department of State that it would no longer require travelers to have an Arabic translation added to their passports in order to enter Libya. Please verify this information with the nearest Libyan embassy or consulate before you travel as this may change on short notice. Within three days of arrival in Libya, foreign visitors must register at the police station closest to where they are residing or they may encounter problems during their stay or upon departure.

Foreigners who travel to other countries while living in Libya must visit a Libyan Police Station upon return (within a week) to have their passport stamped. This must be done every time one returns to Libya.

Visas: All visas are vetted and approved by Libyan immigration departments in Tripoli and are only issued by the appropriate Libyan Embassy upon receipt of that approval. There may be an additional wait for actual visa issuance once approval has been received by the Embassy. Inquiries about obtaining a Libyan visa should be made through the Libyan Embassy in Washington, D.C. Libya's land borders with Egypt and Tunisia are subject to periodic closures even to travelers with valid Libyan visas. Short-term closures of other land borders may occur with little notice.

Food/Water: Main water sources are normally chlorinated, while relatively safe, may cause mild abdominal upsets. Bottled water is available and is advised for the initial weeks of the stay. Drinking water outside of main cities is likely to be contaminated and should be boiled before consumption. Swimming in fresh water should be avoided.

Meats and fish should be well cooked and served hot. Salad and mayonnaise have increased risk of bacteria and should be avoided. Avoid dairy products as they may be made with non-pasteurized milk. Powdered and tinned milk is available and advised. Vegetables should be cooked and fruit should be peeled.

Health: Medical Insurance including emergency repatriation is strongly advised. Yellow Fever vaccine is required if arriving from infected areas, Typhoid, and poliomyelitis vaccinations are recommended. Dysentery and other diarrhea diseases are common. Hepatitis A and E occur throughout the area. Bilharzia is also present. Meningococcal meningitis has been reported in the Sebha region. Cholera and Malaria poses a limited risk. Up to date advice should be sought by a physician experienced with these diseases and vaccinations prior to departure.

 HIV/AIDS restrictions exist for visitors and foreign residents of Libya. Please verify this information with the Libyan Embassy in Washington DC before traveling.

Fumigation of Wood Packing Materials: At this time Libya does not require the ISPM 15 requirement
