NOTE TO NONGOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATION (NGO) WORKERS: The Government of Niger (GON) requires that NGOs not only be registered and officially recognized but that they inform the GON of each mission they plan to undertake in Niger. To avoid detainment and/or expulsion by Nigerien authorities, Embassy Niamey strongly recommends that NGO workers:

- Make sure that their NGO has registered and received official recognition from the Government of Niger. For details on how to do this please visit the Managing Office of Decentralized Cooperation and Non-Governmental Organizations (Direction De La Cooperation Decentralisée et Des Organisations Non Gouvernementales) in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Cooperation (Ministre des Affaires Etrangères et de la Cooperation).
- Carry with them a copy of the official recognition (Arrêté) of the right of their NGO to operate in Niger.
- NGOs should ask for a receipt of the notification provided to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Cooperation, Ministry of the Interior, and Ministry of Territorial Management and Community Development.

The U.S. embassy strongly recommends that in addition to the above, NGO workers present themselves at the regional governor's office prior to beginning their mission in a particular region of Niger. Again, NGO workers should ask for receipt of their presentation to the regional governor. It would also be wise to provide the regional governor with the same written notification that was provided to the ministries.

Safety & Security: U.S. citizens are urged to avoid travel along the border between Niger and Mali, as neither government is able to provide security in this area. Travel of U.S. government employees and official visitors to areas in the south and east of Niamey, including the cities of Maradi, Zinder and Diffa, requires authorization by the Regional Security Officer. As noted in the Department of State's Worldwide Caution, dated February 12, 2010, the Islamic extremist group Al-Qaida in the Lands of the Islamic Maghreb (AQIM) has been designated as a terrorist organization by both the United States and the European Union. AQIM has declared its intention to attack Western targets throughout the Sahel (including Mali, Mauritania, and Niger), and has claimed responsibility for several recent kidnappings/attempted kidnappings and other violent events. For travel in any remote area of the country, the Department of State urges U.S. citizens to use registered guides, and to travel with a minimum of two vehicles equipped with global positioning systems (GPS) and satellite phones.

Large and small street demonstrations occur regularly in Niger particularly by students starting in January going through May. U.S. citizens are also advised to avoid all street demonstrations and maintain security awareness at all times.

Crime: Crime is at an extremely high level due primarily to thefts, robberies, and residential break-ins either day or night. Foreigners are vulnerable to bribery attempts and extortion by law enforcement authorities. Always keep vehicle doors locked and windows rolled up when stopped at stoplights

Currency: The West African Franc (CFA) is the currency Niger shares with several other West African countries. It is fully convertible into Euros. Foreign currency exchange over 1 million CFA (about $1,900 at current exchange rate of 450 CFA/$1) requires authorization from the Ministry of the Economy and Finance (forms available from all major banks).

Health:

Yellow fever is present. Cholera and Malaria is a serious risk and pre-cautions are essential. Immunization against polio and typhoid is often recommended.

Fumigation of Wood Packing Materials: As of this posting Niger does not impose ISPM15 regulations for wood packaging material (WPM).
